2022 CABERNET SAUVIGNON

LEONARDINI VINEYARD, ST. HELENA NAPA VALLEY

WINE NOTES From the first moment setting foot in Leonardini, we knew legends were to be borne from these soils. The terroir produces wines with intensely mysterious depths of fruit, powerfully suave tannin, and heady floral complexities.

VINEYARD Planted in west St. Helena's famously well-drained, gravelly loam soils, Leonardini Vineyard's history runs as deep as its vines' roots. Originally settled and planted by the Lewelling family in the late 1800's, this dirt has been a treasured terroir of Napa Valley for nearly 150 years.

VINTAGE NOTES Due to 2022's challenging growing season, production was limited by half. However, what did find its way to bottle is a superlative inaugural vintage. On the back of this success, we have made a long-term commitment to the vineyard, and it will be a cornerstone of our Napa Valley portfolio for years to come.

PRESS "A full-bodied reveals an impressive combination of elegance and energy...all enveloped in silky, refined tannins. Its structure is exceptional, with each element coming together in perfect harmony, offering remarkable focus and clarity, with a finish of extraordinary length." —95 pts, International Wine Report
